

Web course on Sociology

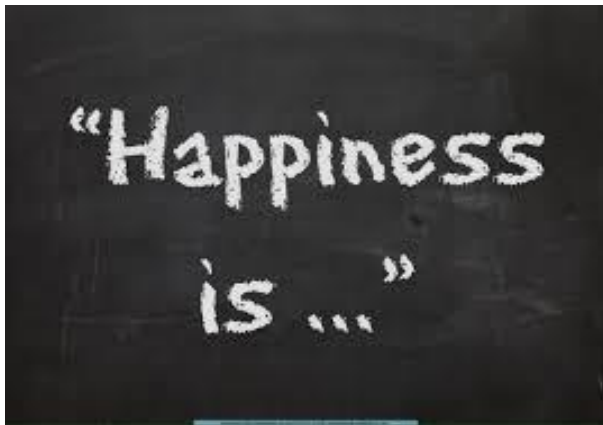

“Have you always wanted to know what sociologists do, and what it means to study sociology in Groningen? In this case this web class Sociology is perfect for you!”

Happiness

Introduction

Reading - Explain the definition of happiness and think of a way to research happiness.

Satisfaction and fairness

Viewing - What explains Frans de Waal about satisfaction and fairness?

Blessing in disguise

Imagining - Think of a situation where the bystander effect won't occur and how someone can prevent the bystander effect from occurring.

THE BYSTANDER EFFECT

Social pressure

Explaining - Watch the TedTalk and explain social pressure and think of an example of social pressure.

Points taken

- Scientific topics have to be adjusted to the target group (high school students)
- Be clear in the assignments and give a proper introduction of topics
- Make the digital environment attractive and interesting (for example by giving extra information about the study Sociology and letting alumni write things about there study experiences)
- It takes time to develop a web course
- Make assignments attractive with short films, images, background articles, news articles, etcetera.
- Give feedback on the assignments

university of groningen

- Learning points -